EDI for SYSPRO
Powered by TIE Kinetix

What is EDI?

Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) is online based software as a service used in the collaboration and collection of data from various departments, systems, and sources throughout an organization. Purchase orders, invoices, payments, and shipping documents are the most common form of data exchange, and these are best transferred and stored in the cloud. To eliminate manual order transfer and errors, EDI ensures that the correct department and person responsible will receive the correct information.
